WICKFORD, RHODE ISLAND

These photos are a sampler of a coastal town in Rhode Island that is surprising in its antiquity, most of the village homes date from the 1700s and 1800s, and it's a very beautiful setting. The little river flows through the town and into the very protected anchorage. It has the appearance of a village set on the shore of a lake, yet it is salt water reached by a bend in the tidal river basin. The homes are mostly dappled steets are also a great surprise because they are in the ground floors of the old dwellings and when the visitor enters it is discovered that they do not end in the front but continue into the next room to the rear and the next and the next like a continuous maze. Wickford is reached easily on an afternoon outing leaving plenty of time to explore the town thoroughly on foot. All along the shore there are shady lanes lined with the old dwellings. The atmosphere is unhurried. It's a beautiful time machine kind of walk and delightfully different.

Special Election Results

SOME WINNERS/SOME LOSERS
reported by VIRGINIA ARRAL

Out of 3,657 registered voters in Mattapoisett, only 900 or 24.61 percent went to the polls last Tuesday to make known their feelings about the Proposition 2½ overrides. This was the first of such an election in Mattapoisett with all override questions. The three that passed will reflect about 78 cents per thousand on the first year's tax rate, said Town Accountant Betty Sears. However, she added, this figure was arrived at with the old valuation and could very well be less with the new valuation.

With the staggering losses dealt the Old Rochester Regional School District, the District School Committee will now have to deal with less of an increase in the budget; about six percent, down from the 11 percent hoped for. Additional costs will have to be made whether or not Rochester voters on July 22 vote to override its budget increase in line with Marion.

A majority needed for the $94,591 failed with 358 yes, 519 no and 23 blanks. Although not designated in the question for the ORR School District, it was implied and understood by many of the voters, noted Selectmen Chairman John DeCosta.

The Town Accountant explained Selectmen were not obliged to place this article on the ballot, as it was not passed at the annual town meeting. "Despite confusion at the first night of the town meeting on this increased amount ($94,591), an attempt to reconsider the second night did not pass. However, Selectmen put it on the special election ballot as a goodwill gesture," she said.

The question of $69,034 for building repairs at Old Rochester Regional High School was also defeated, needing a 2/3 vote; it received 507 yes, 391 no and 2 blanks.

There seemed to be little doubt as to how voters felt about the need for the boilers' replacement at Center School at a cost of $152,900 as this passed on a 2/3 vote with 639 yes, 259 no and 2 blanks.

The question on a bond issue in the amount of $450,000 for the town's share of the cost of the expansion of the sewer treatment facility in Fairhaven was passed by a majority with 591 yes, 300 no and 9 blanks. This 5-year loan will increase the tax rate by three cents the first year and from 89 cents down to 18 cents the following years.

Water/Sewer Superintendent William Nicholson said this question had to be passed for the benefit of the residents now as well as future residents.

The Superintendent was not so pleased with the defeat of the question of the $142,500 for construction of a corrosion control facility. With a 2/3 vote required, it failed with 447 yes to 435 no and 18 blanks.

Mr. Nicholson said, "We will be back again at next year's town meeting because the corrison control will most likely be state mandated by next year."

The majority needed for the $160,000 bond issue to purchase and equip a new 500 gallon per minute fire pumper with 545 yes, 345 no and 10 blanks. The five-year loan will increase the tax rate by 16 cents each of the first two years, with the increase being reduced to 13 cents in the final year.

None of the questions will have to go to a special town meeting. This special election was the final word on the requests, unless Rochester passes its budget increase. If two of the three towns in the regional district vote for the increase, the third will have to follow.

WERE INFORMED by State Representative John C. Bradford that he plans to support the 60%-90% Income Approach on funding the School Business Assistance Bureau, as opposed to the Equal Valuation Method (EQV) of funding. Rep. Bradford feels this is the fairest and most accurate method of funding school building assistance. Chairman DeCosta noted percentages currently are 50%-75%.

A second notice from Rep. Bradford informed Selectmen of two studies initiated by the State Legislative Commission of Water Supply concerning contamination of private wells and an investigation into local efforts to protect groundwater supplies, both public and private, from contamination.

no alterations of the building.

The third decision was for a variance granted to Robert F. Noyer, 4 Crestfield Street, regarding property at Prospect Road in the Waterfront 30 District on which the petitioner plans to build a single family dwelling. A previously granted variance had elapsed with the owner taking no action on the variance. The petitioner asked for and received a re-establishment of the earlier decision granting a rear setback reduction from the required 25 feet to 22.5 feet. Because of the shape of the lot, the setback requirements do not apply and would create a substantial financial hardship to the petitioners and permission would not degrade the public good. Conditions require that surface water shall not be diverted onto any abutting property by construction of the structure.

is one of the high attributes of Fellowship.

"The annual Men's Fellowship Award is given to a person who has unselfishly given of themself with concern, love, and compassion...to help others in our communities and elsewhere. Mary Patricia MacLean exemplifies the character and spirit of this award; this is what true fellowship is all about. We are proud to have selected her as the recipient of our third annual Joe Tomlinson Fellowship Award.

"Over Mary's lifetime, and particularly these past ten years, she has brought all of her experiences as a nurse (she was an original stewardess for American Airlines), a caring family member, and a devoted member of the Marion Emergency Medical Services to aid those in our tri-town area. She has given freely of her gentleness, compassion, and medical expertise to ease pain and offer encouragement around the clock in time of need."

The award ceremonies were held in St. Gabriel's Parish Hall, and in attendance were the Marion Board of Selectmen, members of the Marion Emergency Medical Services, and two previous award winners, Dr. Davis

Mattapoisett Growth Management HAS SECOND MEETING

On Thursday, June 18th, at the Village Court elderly housing complex, the Mattapoisett Growth Management Study Committee had its second meeting. Over 20 citizens and board representatives attended.

The first item of business was review of the questionnaires completed by some 300 town residents. A resident of Tinkhamtown questioned why residents in her neighborhood did not receive questionnaires. It was pointed out that questionnaires were available at both sessions of town meeting and that some 1300 copies were mailed with the Water Department bills in early May. Households in Tinkhamtown, Brandt Island, the Neck and other areas of town did not receive copies in the mail. Chairman Peter Kortright admitted that many residents did not receive copies of the questionnaire and pointed out that all residents will have ample opportunity to have input later in the growth study. Committee members agreed, after preliminary tabulations of the questionnaire results, that the sample size and indications of opinion were representative of the town. In addition, it was felt that a new questionnaire might be developed for townwide distribution which, along with future neighborhood meetings and discussions, would more effectively provide direction for the growth study.

Committee members then began the still unfinished job of tabulating the 300 odd responses. At the first meeting of the Steering Committee, each member had been given a package of twenty completed questionnaires to tabulate. During the second meeting at the Village Court, members spent over an hour recording rankings and discussing preliminary results. It was decided, given the difficulty of accurately reporting numerical results, that further tabulation and interpretation would be needed before the data would be useful for the committee's work. The initial screening of results indicated that Mattapoisett residents value the rural, small town atmosphere and harbor and pointed to a strong common desire to preserve natural resources. There was less agreement on the types and location preferences for additional residential and commercial development but responses did point to the need for planning in these and other areas.

On the question of whether certain types of residential land uses should be encouraged, discouraged or left as is, there was discussion of the fact that concepts such as "cluster development" and "affordable housing" were not consistently understood by most people and that therefore, the votes were only partially useful. The ensuing discussion and debate among committee members proved the point. The Committee agreed that one of its most important goals must be to define needs and alternative solutions and to help educate the townspeople about the options so that the town can make informed decisions.

The next meeting of the Growth Management Study Committee is scheduled for Thursday, July 9th, at 7:30 p.m. at the Village Court elderly housing complex. ALL INTERESTED CITIZENS AND BOARD REPRESENTATIVES ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO ATTEND. The agenda will include additional work on questionnaires and development of work programs, schedules and assignments.

a review by DAVID B. BOYCE

To open their "Sizzlin' Summer of American Broadway Musicals", the Zeiterion Theatre selected the bouncy Neil Simon show, "They're Playing Our Song", with music by Marvin Hamlisch and lyrics by Carole Bayer Sager. This triple-talent team would be hard-pressed to fail and indeed, "They're Playing Our Song" is a small, but delightful entertainment.

In the hands of Directors George T. Charbonneau and Armand R. Marchand, well-known for their standards of excellence, the show is perfect summer fare, with its light, tuneful score. The book has been characterized as biographical of the relationship at one time shared by the composer and lyricist. It is a story of a complex and sometimes stormy association in which both participants are driven and guided by their neuroses, often to the detriment of their emotions and talents.

Composer Vernon Gersch and Lyricist Sonia Walsk are assisted in their thinking processes by the voices of their multi-faceted egos. These voices are represented by six other performers, three male, three female, who function as a chorus. Sonia, when presented with a difficult lyric, calls upon her "girls" to help her out, but this device doesn't really give the show any depth because there is no real interaction between the main character and their voices. Nor does it distract from the action, but Simon steered clear of using the voices in any psychological way, which might have made the characters richer. As it is, Sonia and Vernon deal directly with each other and, as usual with a Simon work, they are given lines bathed in Simon's familiar wit.

Kevin Daly, a New York actor with an impressive list of credits, is a very likable Vernon Gersch. His boyish smile and manner nicely offsets a voice both strong and clean. He acts, reacts and interacts with sly timing and manic glee and obviously enjoys his role. Gersch is written with a tinge of neurotic paranoia about anything outside his realm and Daly does a superb job of portraying Gersch's particular demons.

Risa Brainin is a splendid Sonia Walsk. This New York actress is classy, effervescent and confident in a role as ditsy as any ever conceived. Sonia talks a blue streak, is driven by her own brand of logic and is doggedly loyal to her ex-lover, Leon. This loyalty is often the fly in the ointment of progress to a real commitment with Vernon. Ms. Brainin is a delight to watch and to hear.

In the roles of the ego/voices are Paul Sardinha of New Bedford, Susan Trout of Providence, Susan J. Matula of Somerset, Kevin McGlynn of Medford, Christine DeVito of Brighton and Bernie Choiniere of Boston. All are strong of voice and light on their feet.

Don Vasconcelles conducts a crisp orchestra, Clay James choreographs with clean simplicity and Anne Couto designs costumes both appropriate and colorful. Settings,

QUESTION:

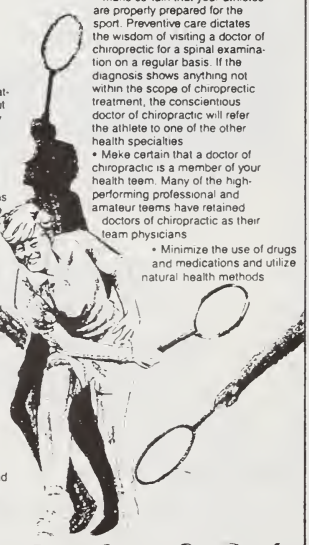
WHY SHOULD ATHLETES HAVE CHIROPRACTIC SPINAL MANIPULATION?

ANSWER: Because it can help their performance.

Many amateur and professional athletes are sidelined with injuries that could be avoided. Others sit it out on the bench because their injury just doesn't seem to respond to ordinary treatment. Still others are playing, but at less than their peak efficiency simply because their structural system is not in balance.

Progressive coaches and trainers are realizing that pain-killing drugs are not the answer. Drugs and medications merely cover up the symptom, deceiving the player into actions which could make the injury more serious.

Probably more than any other health profession, chiropractic's approach to health closely relates to the needs of the sports participant. Most sports involve body contact, leverage, fast starts and stops, and positioning that places an unusual strain on the back and structural system. Doctors of chiropractic consider the human as an integrated being, giving special attention to spinal mechanics and neurological, muscular and vascular relationships. Chiropractic is a natural health care method that stresses the importance of keeping all the systems of the body functioning efficiently, so the player enjoys peak performance, a minimum injury risk and fast recuperative powers.



Here's what you can do:

- Make certain that your athletes are properly prepared for the sport. Preventive care dictates the wisdom of visiting a doctor of chiropractic for a spinal examination on a regular basis. If the diagnosis shows anything not within the scope of chiropractic treatment, the conscientious doctor of chiropractic will refer the athlete to one of the other health specialties.
- Make certain that a doctor of chiropractic is a member of your health team. Many of the high-performing professional and amateur teams have retained doctors of chiropractic as their team physicians.
- Minimize the use of drugs and medications and utilize natural health methods.

"They're Playing Our Song" is a charming beginning for summer theatregoers in a season which will offer two other giants of musical theater. July will be host to the brassy and chilling musical, "Cabaret". It is of special interest, as the role of the Emcee, made famous by Joel Grey, will be played by George Charbonneau. August will see the mounting of the Broadway classic "West Side Story".

Rebecca Parris and Eddie Higgins will perform a program of jazz on July 11th at 7:30 p.m. on the outside concert stage at Heritage Plantation of Sandwich. Then, on Sunday, July 12th, the Marine Detachment (1797) will present a military re-enactment, at 1 and 3 p.m. on the Military Parade Field.

Ms. Parris has gained national prominence as a singer of jazz and standards in only three short years after her switch from pop and rock music. Her fame is spreading in the northeast and her live shows are consistently jam-packed.

Higgins had been a major voice on the piano since the 50s and 60s when he led the house trio at Chicago's famed London House, where he played opposite such luminaries as Stan Getz, Oscar Peterson, Dizzy Gillespie and George Shearing, to name a few.

The duo first performed together on Cape Cod during the summer of 1984 and their magic was instant. Parris has performed at Symphony Hall, The Boston Globe Jazz Festival and at concerts all over New

People's Celebration

The final countdown has begun. Everything is ready for the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air at the Fourth of July People's Celebration, the biggest party in New Bedford history.

Volunteers are mobilized. Parade marshalls check the route. Musicians tune their instruments. Jugglers, clowns and puppeteers loosen up. Rowers train for the boat races. Waiters and waitresses practice running with full trays. Out in the harbor, three barges loaded with 3500 fireworks shells wait silently, patiently, for the party's grand finale. And even now, donations continue to pour in.

The festivities begin at 9:00 a.m. with boat races in New Bedford harbor followed by the awards ceremoney at noon at State Pier. At 1:00 the Cape Verdean Recognition and Bicentennial Celebration Parade begins. The afternoon fun includes the waitpersons' race at Freestone's, a pie-eating contest and music and entertainment for the entire family. At 7:30 the SEMPOPS concert begins on Leonard's Wharf, ending at dusk with the 1812 overture, complete with cannon and fireworks. And then, the grand finale -- a spectacular 24-minute fireworks display from the harbor by the Gruccis, "America's First Family of Fireworks".

"We The People", presented by Theatreworks/USA, was scheduled in celebration of the Bicentennial of the United States Constitution and the City of New Bedford. Theatreworks/USA, a family-oriented theatre company, is known for their productions portraying America's outstanding historical heroes and heroines.

The Summer Youth Theatre Festival continues next week with "The Magic of Lyn and Ken" on Wednesday, July 15th, followed by "Jack and the Beanstalk" on July 22nd; "The Real Stories of Little Red Riding Hood and The Three Little Pigs" on July 29th; and Puppeteer Marshal Izen in the world premiere of "Mozart, Monsters and Matisse" on Wednesday, August 5th.

Special discounts for groups are also available by contacting Alan Liddell at the Theatre, 997-5664. The Zeiterion Theatre is located at 684 Purchase Street, New Bedford.

NEW EXHIBITS

The New Bedford Whaling Museum announces the opening of two exhibits on the July 4-5 weekend.

The first, NEW BEDFORD HARBOR, 1787-1815 will be the first of two major exhibitions during 1987 which will celebrate the city's bicentennial. NEW BEDFORD EMERGES will explore the life of the town from the time of its separation from Dartmouth until the end of the War of 1812 -- a time when New Bedford emerged as a major seaport, fully committed to maritime commerce and the business of whaling. The exhibit has been organized by the Museum's Library staff and a committee of volunteers, which assisted with research on maps, costumes, documents, and artifacts. NEW BEDFORD EMERGES will be open to the public from July 4 through September 27.

On July 5, the late James Toatley's full-length statue of Lewis Temple, the inventor of the toggle

To celebrate this event, the Museum will open a commemorative exhibit, JAMES TOATLEY: THE NEW BEDFORD YEARS (1974-1986). The exhibit will feature 10 pieces of the artist's sculpture, made while he lived in the city from 1974 until his death last year. The model for the Temple statue will be included, as will the bust of Sergeant William Carney, whose bravery in the Civil War earned him the Congressional Medal of Honor, the first ever awarded a black serviceman.
